Dear customer,

We hope that you are keeping well.

Under the current circumstances, Plastipak would like to assure you that we have made every effort and put in place all the necessary sanitary measures to ensure the continuity of our supply.

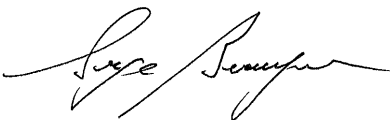

The implementation of these measures combined with increases in manufacturing costs and raw material have resulted in price increases that despite our best efforts leaves us with no other alternative but to proceed with a price increase of all our products by 6% on all orders shipped on or after January 1st, 2021.

Plastipak reserves the right to limit the volume of orders according to your normal monthly usage. Please note that delivery lead-times may be longer depending on the type of product required. We invite you to validate these delays with your sales representative or our customer service team.

We greatly appreciate your understanding and thank you for your ongoing support.

Kind regards,

PLASTIPAK INDUSTRIES INC.
