

Advanced Notice: Pricing Adjustment Effective June 1, 2026

As part of our continued commitment to transparency, we are providing advance notice of a general price adjustment that will take effect on June 1, 2026.

Like many manufacturers, Betco® is navigating ongoing cost pressures across the business. Inflation continues to impact utilities, energy, and raw materials, while transportation and logistics costs remain elevated due to freight volatility and labor challenges. At the same time, changes in labor conditions, regulations, and global supply chains are contributing to continued cost increases.

To address these conditions, we will be implementing a standard pricing adjustment, averaging approximately 5% across our product portfolio. To support your planning, updated pricing files will be available on April 10, 2026, providing time for review and preparation ahead of the effective date.

Betco remains committed to delivering long-term value through dependable supply, responsive service, and continued investment in innovation. We appreciate your continued partnership.
